U. S. May Shift Bulk Of Aid To Far East

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles has told Congress that the Eisenhower administration may shift a substantial share of American aid from Western Europe to the Far East.

Larger grants for Communist-threatened Indochina and Formosa are contemplated, Dulles said, along with "perhaps a little more" in the Middle East. But he added in testimony made public yesterday that this country's contribution to the military buildup of the North Atlantic Allies, to be considered this month in Paris, "could be considerably less" than now.

Advising against a "pennywise and pound foolish" policy in Indochina, Dulles said that to provide more help to the French and their Viet Nam allies over "the next year or 18 months might permit large cutbacks later.

Asserting a buildup of Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa was "very important" to curb aggression by Red China, he estimated that deliveries of military equipment to Formosa have lagged 70 per cent behind what was promised.

The secretary, without giving figures, outlined administration ideas about aid spending and foreign trouble spots in testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee today. Dulles testified on March 18, shortly before the visit of French Premier Rene Mayer.

Mayer reportedly received assurances of American backing for some 57 new Viet Nam commando-type battalions to fight Communist guerrillas.

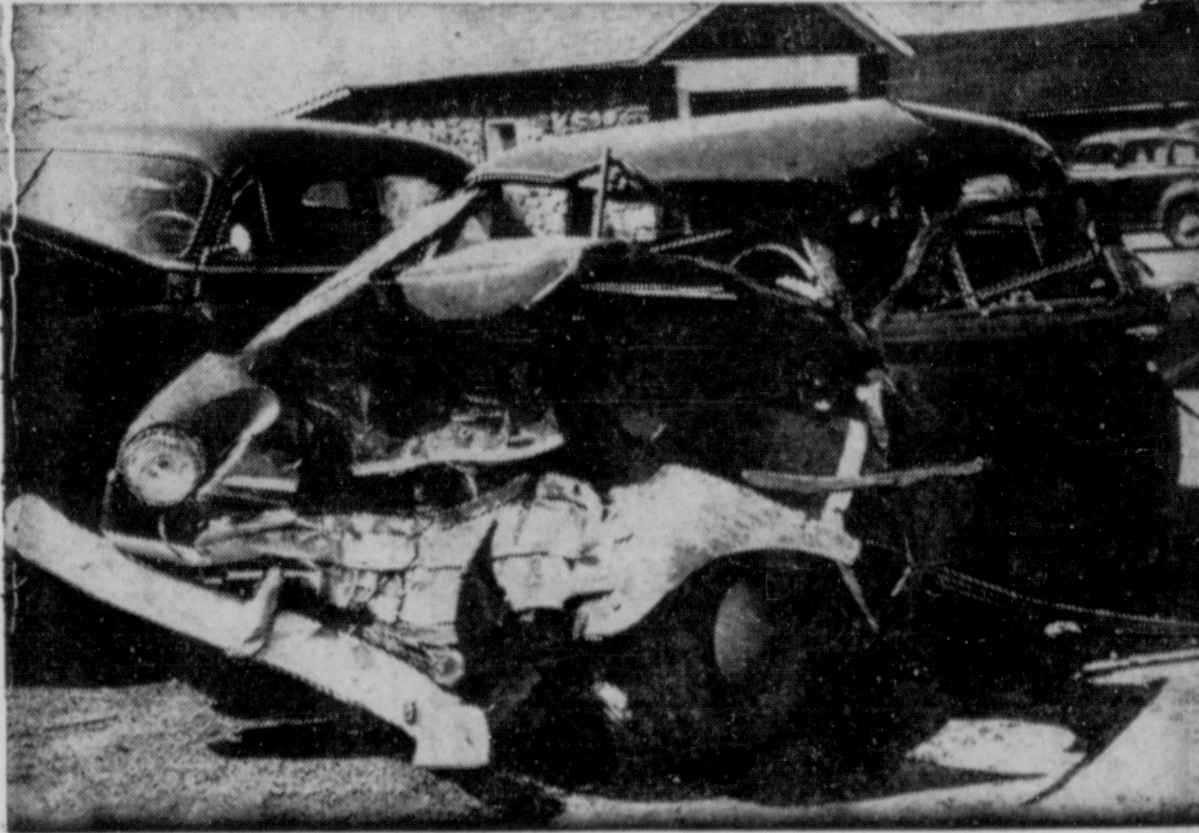

A new foreign aid program for the 1953 fiscal year starting July 1 is expected to be ready next month, after completion of a revision of the $7,600,000,000 Truman budget program under direction of Mutual Security Director Harold Stassen.

Donald B. Lourie, assistant secretary for administration, told the subcommittee that the department's own allotment already has been trimmed from $31 million to $26 million.

Dulles testified: "One—The Indochina military situation is 'not so favorable as we might have expected.' If the French will follow the American example of relying more heavily on the South Koreans and supply more arms to the Viet Nam allies the situation may improve, he said. Dulles said it is important that the Indochinese receive convincing assurances of political independence. Noting that one third of the cost of the Indochina war, he said nevertheless "a somewhat larger expenditure" may be necessary over the next 12 or 18 months "if at the end of that time we could feel that the expenditure could be drastically and progressively reduced."

Two—The creation of a "potential force on Formosa is very important to prevent the diversion of Chinese forces to the two flank positions in Indochina and Korea.

Three—In the Middle East, "the drift is dangerously unfavorable to us," and the situation is "quite precarious," Dulles said it probably will be desirable to spend "perhaps a little bit more" in the Near and Middle East to provide a minimum of armament. He said an essential element in improving conditions is a peace between Israel and the Arab states.

Daring New Feats Of Surgical Plumbing, Engineering Within Human Heart Reported

By Frank Carey
Associated Press Science Reporter

Atlantic City, (AP)—Daring new feats of surgical plumbing and engineering within the human heart—some of them involving use of ingenious hardware—were described yesterday.

The American Heart Association heard descriptions of effective use of such things as:

One—A new three-bladed knife for sight-unseen surgery on a sometimes defective "trapdoor" inside the aorta, the body's main trunkline for blood through which the heart pumps some nine tons of blood every day.

Two—Tiny plastic "bottles" inserted right into the heart to act as "ball valves" substituting for a defective valve between two chambers of the heart.

Three—Rubber "wells" attached on the outside to a surgical opening in the heart wall to provide a reservoir for blood while the surgeon sticks his hand through the bottom of the well and operates inside the heart.

Four—A new "patching" technique for repairing holes in tissue inside the heart without losing a drop of blood.

Dr. C. P. Bailey of Philadelphia and several associates told the closing session of the association's annual meeting about the three-bladed knife.

Attachable to a surgeon's fingers, it is inserted through small cut in the heart, then directed up through one of the heart's inner chambers to a valve which controls the flow of blood from the heart through the great aorta.

This three-flapped valve or trapdoor sometimes is fouled up by a congenital defect, so that blood

"backs up" into the heart, causing it to overwork itself.

Dr. Dwight E. Harken of Boston told about the plastic "bottles" for surgical correction of a deficiency of the "mitral" valve—a valve, shaped like a bishop's hat, which controls blood flow between the heart's two left-sided chambers.

Attached to valve tissues, the bottle's function is to move back and forth with the beating of the heart, alternating opening and closing the valvular opening. The bottle lies sideways.

Dr. Robert E. Gross, also of Boston, described the attachable rubber "wells" for containing blood while the surgeon repairs damage inside the heart.

The blood rises only to a certain point, is kept fluid by chemicals as the surgeon operates, then is forced back into the body when the surgeon withdraws his hand.

Violations Not Treaties Cause Trouble

Warm Springs, Ga. (AP)—Speaking on the eighth anniversary of the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a secretary to the late President said yesterday it is not the Yalta and Potsdam agreements but their ruthless violations by the Russians which have bred the present world crisis.

In the first public address of his career, William D. Hassett asserted also that the Republicans have paid implicit tribute to Roosevelt by quiet acceptance of all major New Deal legislation.

In a speech just outside the "Little White House" where Roosevelt died, the former newspaperman said Stalin was a faithless ally who "betrayed every trust imposed in him and failed to keep a single undertaking entered into with two Presidents of the United States—in conferences at Yalta and Potsdam."

Of the criticism aimed at Presidents Roosevelt and Truman because of results of these war-time conferences, Hassett observed:

"Hindsight gives the armchair strategist a great advantage. He is able to tell always just what should have been done—even as the Monday morning quarterback. It is easy and idle to say that the Yalta and Potsdam agreements should not have been negotiated."

"After all—to keep the record straight—it must be remembered that it is the violation of those agreements by Stalin and his fellow barbarians which has brought the world to its present misery. This might be said in the interests of truth and justice."

Second Statewide Air Raid Alert Is Set For April 21

Harrisburg, (AP)—Pennsylvania's second statewide air raid alert since the end of World War II is set for Tuesday afternoon, April 21.

The six-minute test will bring to a halt activities of nearly 11 million Pennsylvanians.

Richard Gerstell, State Civil Defense Director, listed three objectives for the alert. It will test air raid sirens in every community of the state, give the public practice in self protection and produce added information on civil defense, he explained.

The first statewide alert since the war was held Oct. 15, 1952 and was termed "highly successful" by civil defense officials although it disclosed several "weaknesses."

In this month's test, practically all pedestrian and vehicular traffic in the state will come to a halt and everyone will have to seek shelter. The only exception is vehicles traveling the Pennsylvania Turnpike which will be allowed to continue moving.

In the October test, motorists were allowed to remain in their cars after coming to a stop.

"This time we are asking all motorists to leave their autos and seek shelter for the duration of the alert," Gerstell said. "Truck drivers who must guard cargoes will be excepted."

Vehicles will not be allowed to leave or enter the turnpike during the alarm.

Sirens and horns signifying the beginning of the test will sound at 2:35 p. m., 45 minutes later in the day than the October alert. The all clear will come at 2:41.

Sabres Down Seven MIGs Over Korea

Seoul, Monday, (AP)—Sabre Jets shot seven Communist MIGs out of the clear North Korean skies and probably downed another in furious air battles Sunday nearly eight miles up, the Fifth Air Force said.

At least one U. S. Sabre was shot down but the pilot, 1st Lt. Joseph McConnell, Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., was rescued by helicopter.

Air ducts broke out when U. S. Thunderjets roared to within 10 miles of the Communist MIG base at Anjung, Manchuria, late Sunday and bombed a North Korean railroad yard.

Returning fighter-bomber pilots said they destroyed 27 boxcars and one building while a chain of explosions rolled up towering columns of smoke and flames.

The strikes and the biggest air battle since March 21 came as Gen. O. P. Weyland, far east air forces commander in Tokyo, declared there has been no letup in the Allied air war during Panmunjom negotiations with the Reds.

There was no letup in ground fighting, either, between Chinese Reds and South Korean Third division troops. Fighting at Outpost Texas, east of the Pukhan river on the central front, raged into its seventh day Sunday with possession of the crest still in dispute.

Determined Koreans drove the Chinese off the 2,000-foot height early Sunday and reoccupied it the 12th time the outpost has changed hands in a week.

The Eighth Army said the South Koreans killed or wounded 165 Communists in regaining the top. Action elsewhere along the front was light. Only a few Red probes and Allied patrol contacts were reported.

Says Peace Moves Phony

Washington, (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said yesterday the prime objective of Moscow's peace gestures, which he called "phony," may be to buy time for a Communist move into the Near East to gain a bridge toward Africa.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, advanced this theory in an interview amid growing indications that top American officials are becoming extremely wary of recent Soviet overtures.

President Eisenhower has said these offers should be taken at face value until proved false but Wiley, a frequent conferee with Secretary of State Dulles, had no hesitation in labeling them "phony."

Previously, Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, said that while the overtures must be followed up, he believes "Russia is trying to fool us."

Wiley said he believes the Communist objective is to lure the free world into a false sense of security.

"Then the Soviets may transfer their primary attention to the Near East and Africa, rather than moving in Indochina or at some other point in Asia, he said.

"Their objective is to split the West and get us to let our guard down," Wiley declared. "They want the Near East and a bridge to Africa—that's their primary objective."

Monck, O'Malley said, now claims he shot the victim accidentally while playing a modified version of Russian roulette.

The district attorney quoted Monck as saying he placed two bullets in the revolver, spun the cylinder, and fired at the woman's head, thinking the hammer would fall on an empty chamber.

O'Malley said the weapon was found hidden near the scene of the shooting with one spent cartridge in the chamber.

House Leadership May Seek Sales Tax Test After Week-End Study By 'Doubtfuls'

Harrisburg, (AP)—The question of whether the House Republican leadership can muster enough votes to pass a general sales tax may be decided this week.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said the two per cent sales tax now before the 207-member lower chamber should be ready for a final vote by Tuesday.

"The weekend should have given doubtful representatives a chance to sound out their constituents whether to vote for the tax," Johnson said.

He said the 109 GOP members of the House were trying to sell the tax on the idea that all possible economies have been made.

The threat of returning some state costs of government, such as education, to local governments also is a factor in the tax argument, he indicated.

Johnson cited reductions of some $19,265,000 made by the Republican caucus working over Gov. John S. Fine's $1,400,000,000 budget for the next two years.

Even with the budget cuts—and some may meet with strong objections—about 138 million dollars still will be needed in new state revenue to balance the 1953-55 budget.

Attempts to push the sales tax to a vote in the House last Thursday fell flat when it became apparent that not enough GOP votes were at hand to pass it.

Democrats in both chambers stand firm against it. They are joined by some Republicans—just as in 1951 when a dozen senators plus the Democrats held up a proposed flat income tax.

The income tax that year was approved by the GOP-dominated house but met death in the Senate. On the sales tax, 27 Republicans senators—enough to pass the measure—have indicated they would accept a one per cent levy. They balked at two per cent, however.

It is estimated that a two per cent sales tax would yield about $257,000,000 in a two-year period. Speaker Charles C. Smith (R-Phila.) said this would permit the legislature to drop some temporary taxes which he described as "nuisance" levies.

He classed such items as the real estate transfer tax, the gross receipts tax and levies on domestic insurance premiums as "nuisance" taxes.

Other big items before the General Assembly are four Chesterman bills coming up for final passage.

Heading the list of measures based on recommendations of the state government survey committee is one to place the state police and parole board under the justice department.

Another would permit the department of public instruction to manage the business affairs of school districts asking special financial aid three years in a row.

The constitutionality of such a measure already has been challenged by Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R - Schuylkill), chairman of the Senate education committee.

In the House, the possibility looms of a vote to authorize Erie to adopt a city manager form of government.

Also in the Senate, action is expected on a bill to increase the speed limit on Pennsylvania highways from 50 to 55 miles an hour.

Clark has told the Reds that successful negotiations on the exchange of sick and wounded must precede the renewal of the big talks. The Reds reminded him that the negotiations were now signed and sealed.

Peiping radio, official Communist mouthpiece, reported from Red truce headquarters at Kaesong that the first convoy of Allied sick and wounded would start southward from North Korean prison camps at 6 a. m. Tuesday and would arrive in Kaesong Thursday in a motor convoy of 23 vehicles. Then will come a long four-day wait until the actual exchange at Panmunjom on Monday morning.

The Red broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said the repatriation agreement guaranteed that the convoys carrying sick and injured will be immune from air and ground attack. It said each vehicle will be marked with red flags and stop-over locations with huge red crosses.

Peiping also boasted that the Koreans and Chinese would repatriate a proportionately bigger number of sick and wounded than the U. N. Far from being "incredibly small" the Reds said the number amounted to 5 per cent of the 12,000 Allied prisoners held by the Communists. The Allies are returning only 4.3 per cent of the 132,000 Communists they hold, the radio added. It repeated the assertion there were no Red prisoners unwilling to return home.

The "incredibly small" reference was to an expatriation by Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, head of the U. N. Liaison team, when he first heard how many Allied prisoners the Reds were willing to hand over in the first trade.

Honesdale, (AP)—William Pearce thanked his relatives and friends for helping him celebrate his 101st birthday yesterday and then read once again his most treasured present—a letter from President Eisenhower.

Pearce, an old railroadman, said: "I helped elect the General last November and I'll be around in 1956 to vote for him again."

Guarded Hopes Flow Through Allied Camp

Munsan, Monday, (AP)—The United Nations Command yesterday studied long and carefully a Communist bid for immediate resumption of full scale truce talks on the basis of Red "concessions" which opened the way for a voluntary swap of sick and wounded prisoners beginning April 20.

Guarded hopes settled over the Allied camp that some settlement in the Korean truce negotiations—suspended since Oct. 8—may be in sight.

It appeared likely that the big talks on over-all prisoner swap might be resumed while the exchange of sick and wounded still is in progress.

Communist and Allied staff officers were due to meet late tonight (by eastern standard time) in Panmunjom to ratify final agreements on administrative details of the sick and wounded exchange.

The Communists promised Sunday to turn over the first of 600 sick and wounded Allied prisoners next Monday, April 20. The 600 include 120 Americans. The Reds did not say what nationalities would be included in the first group of 160.

Despite Allied urgings, the Reds would not advance the date.

The U. N. Command also agreed to start homeward on the same day the first of 5,800 Communists willing to be repatriated.

The top U. N. commander, Gen. Mark Clark, was silent all through Sunday on impatient Red demands that the full-scale truce talks be resumed.

Clark has told the Reds that successful negotiations on the exchange of sick and wounded must precede the renewal of the big talks. The Reds reminded him that the negotiations were now signed and sealed.

Peiping radio, official Communist mouthpiece, reported from Red truce headquarters at Kaesong that the first convoy of Allied sick and wounded would start southward from North Korean prison camps at 6 a. m. First Report Meeting For YMCA Fund Campaign Is Tonight

Kresge Gift Gives Drive To Solicitors

The first report meeting of the YMCA "Finish the Job" $350,000 Building Fund Campaign will be held at the Penn-Stroud tonight at 6:15. This will be the first of a series of five report meetings.

The second will occur on Friday, April 17, the third Tuesday, April 21, the fourth Friday, April 24 and the Victory Dinner Wednesday, April 29.

Over 300 workers in the campaign organization, encouraged by the $25,000 gift from the Sebastian S. Kresge Foundation and consideration of the fact that this gift is conditional on the entire building being completed and free of debt in a three-year period, are determined to give the citizens of the Pocono Area the opportunity to invest generously in this great project that will mean so much in years to come, not only to boys and girls, but citizens of all ages in Monroe County, leaders said.

Workers are coached to make it clear that a project of this magnitude and importance will only succeed if those who are generous and able believe in the importance of the services of the YMCA and will consider maximum giving, campaign officials emphasized.

Suggestions which prospective contributors are asked to consider are only an effort to relate the prospect's giving ability to the great need.

The following telegram was received by Holt Wyckoff and C. R. Gilliam from Eugene E. Barnett, general secretary of the National Council of YMCA's: "We are following with keen interest and best wishes the Finish the Job Campaign of the Monroe County Young Men's Christian Association. Its success will mean much to the youth of the Pocono Area. Be assured of our thought and prayers as you launch this important effort."

A meeting of the special gifts committee in preparation for the general report meeting tonight will be held at the Penn-Stroud at noon Monday, at which time Mr. Gilliam and the special gifts workers will prepare their report for the night session.

Holt Wyckoff, general co-chairman in charge of the teams organization, will preside at the night report meeting. All workers have been reminded of the meeting by the hostess committee under the leadership of Mrs. Sara Kresge.

Special recognition will be given to the Division Hostess whose teams show the best attendance. Floyd Wilmoth, chairman of the auditing committee, has arranged for eight auditors who will receive worker's individual report envelopes as they enter the meeting room. These auditors and their divisions are as follows:

Mrs. Ruth Gordon, auditor for Fred H. Rhodes Division I; Walter Marshall, auditor for Mrs. Olaf P. Jensen's Division II; Foster Minnich, auditor for Thomas L. Kistler's Division III; Clarence L. Pearson, auditor for Dr. Gail Fegley's Division IV; Roy Riley, auditor for Horace Walter's Division V; Mrs. Larry Lambert, auditor for Miss Joyce Rutt's Division VI; James P. Sheeley, auditor for William J. Reaser's Division VII; Joe S. Wallace, auditor for Max D. Stadfeld's Division VIII.

The community singing will be led by Robert Haigh, accompanied by Albert DeRensis, Mr. Haigh, vice chairman of the music committee, has arranged for the appearance of Mrs. Frances Hartzel Meredith accompanied by Mrs. Eloise Lewis.

The main speaker of the meeting will be Clarence Orange, New Jersey, YMCA, an area and local secretary of many years' experience and an able speaker.

Section leaders will call on division managers who in turn will call on their captains for reports. Reports will be placed on a giant score board. Special recognition will be given to quota-breaking individuals and teams. More prospect cards for those who need them will be on display.

SHS Spring Concert Will Be Held Thursday Night

Under direction of Numa Snyder, Stroudsburg High School's vocal music department will present its annual Spring concert Thursday night in the school auditorium.

"This Is My Country" has been chosen as general theme for the concert. Title is used by permission of Shawnee Press, holders of copyright on the tune of that name.

The program will be divided into five major parts, Snyder said. Each portion will deal with a particular characteristic of life in this country.

First group to be featured in the concert will be the "Decemviri" who will sing a prologue consisting of "God Painted a Picture" by Peter DeRose followed by "This Is My Country" featuring the mixed chorus, "The Pledge of Allegiance" and the National Anthem.

Students associated with the choral groups will write and deliver their own narrations for each of the five groups of songs.

Yvonne Auffant will narrate the first portion, "His Religions" which will include "Dear Christians, One and All Rejoice," by Bach representing the Protestant faith; "Ave Verum Corpus" by Mozart sung in Latin and representing Catholicism and "El Yivneh Hagallil" sung in Jewish representing Judaism.

For its second part, the concert will have "His People" as the central theme. Narrator will be Marilyn Learn.

Songs will include "All Day On the Prairie" by David Guion, a cowboy song with guitar accompaniment by Bob Moyer; "The Amish Child's Song" by Harvey Gaul; "I'll Take My Staff and Travel On," a white spiritual arranged by Deane Shure; "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," arranged by Stewart Churchill and "Ain't That Good News," a Negro spiritual.

Making up the third group of songs will be selections from "His Wars," with narration written and delivered by James Ifft. Songs will be "Nancy Hanks" by Katherine Davis; "No Man Is an Island" by Joan Whitney and Alex Kramer and the third stanza of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Following intermission, the fourth group, titled "Miscellaneous" will be given. Under this grouping will come "His Education," narrated by Sandra Kresge; "His Sports," narrated by Don Garaventi and "Mass Production," by Earl Groner Jr.

Selections will include "Halls of Ivy," "Vive L'amour," "Whiffenpoof Song," "Three Blind Mice," and "In My Merry Oldsmobile."

For their fifth group of songs, the vocal groups will turn to the "Broadway" scene for selections from past hit productions. Narrated by Carole Cramer, songs to be heard include "Bidin' My Time," by George Gershwin; "Lover Come Back To Me," by Romberg and "Poor Pierrot" along with selections from "Roberta" by Jerome Kern.

Club Collects $55 In Drive

Bartonsville—Members of the Jolly Jane Club headed the Cancer Society drive for funds in the Bartonsville last Wednesday night.

They worked in three teams, one person driving while another knocked on doors and made collections throughout the area.

Mrs. Russell Bond with Mrs. Richard Coss, Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., with Mrs. Roy Schreck, and Miss Mary Alleger with sister, Mrs. Vernon Wallace, collected a total of $55 in the three hours they worked.

They finished off the campaign with refreshments in Miss Alleger's home, while they counted the contributions received. In previous years, Bartonsville has been included in the Tannersville report, but since the Jolly Jane Club has been aiding the Cancer Society by making dressings at recent meetings, they volunteered this further service to the cause.

Furnishing Styles Favor Navy Blue

Navy blue, long a favorite in the apparel field, is currently winning wide acceptance from home furnishings stylists.

The particular shade used for decorative fabrics and rugs is a clear, bright hue of navy, and combines beautifully with grays, beige, yellow, lighter shades of green, and of course, with white.

Contemporary in feeling, it is especially effective when used with light woods. Practical and a "good-mixer," Navy is here to stay.

New Bendix Duomatic Washer Offered By Leslie W. Hay

Leslie W. Hay, Bendix appliance dealer of Canadensis, announces that the new Bendix Duomatic Washer Dryer has been released to the public.

This marvel of Bendix engineering is the only laundry unit ever developed to dry as well as wash your clothes—automatically... in one continuous operation.

A single setting of the dials and your clothes are thoroughly washed and then completely dried... while you're away... while you play... while you sleep. No watching, no waiting, no worrying.

The Duomatic washes your clothes in warm or hot water (you select the desired temperature). Gentle thorough Tumble-Action washing safely washes even the most delicate fabrics or greasy overalls with equal ease. Water temperature is maintained throughout the washing cycle by the exclusive Magic Heater.

This exclusive feature is maintaining even water temperature, aids in giving you a cleaner wash faster. The clothes are then triple rinsed with fresh water and completely air dried. Clothes don't bake dry in the Bendix Duomatic. Controlled heat plus loads of billowing washed and purified air insure better faster drying.

You'll love the greater convenience... the greater economy of the marvelous Bendix Duomatic Washer Dryer. You save on soap... use less water and actually need fewer clothes.

See the new Bendix Washer Dryer soon at Leslie W. Hay Sales and Service in Canadensis where it is now on display.

Rev. Kaytor Is Speaker

Rev. Anthony W. Kaytor was the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service on Saturday at the local Seven-Day Adventist Church, N. 2nd St., Stroudsburg.

Rev. Kaytor is missionary secretary for the East Pennsylvania Conference of Seven-Day Adventists, with headquarters at Reading, Pa. He spoke in the interest of the Church's annual ingathering appeal, which was launched recently, and based his remarks on the well versed Scripture "It Is More Blessed to Give Than To Receive."

In connection with the welfare drive about which Rev. Kaytor spoke, the local missionary leader, Robert Christman, commended the members on their fine spirit of cooperation, as he announced to them, that the Church has already reached the half-way mark of their goal.

The total goal which the Stroudsburg Church hopes to raise is $2,160.00, this sum will be used in humanitarian work, both at home and abroad.

Will Use Fluorine

Philadelphia (AP) — Water treated with fluorine will be pouring from the taps of Philadelphia homes next fall in a move to help prevent tooth decay in children.

Philadelphia thus will become the largest city in the nation to undertake the fluoridated water plan. Six hundred other cities and towns—the largest being San Francisco—already have adopted the program.

Water Commissioner Samuel S. Baxter said the city will advertise for bids for equipment in the next several weeks and the program will be in effect by the time children start back to school in September.

The equipment will cost about $50,000, Baxter estimated, while the fluorine compound used will come to about $200,000 a year.

Although the city's entire populace will be drinking the treated water, the move is expected to benefit only children between the ages of three and 12.

Major health organizations have approved the program although there is opposition from some who say they are against "mass medication." Experiments have shown fluoridated water to reduce tooth decay in children as much as 65 per cent, health authorities said.

Duff Warns Against Red Hoodwinking

Pittsburgh (AP) — The United States must keep rearming for any eventuality and must not, be hoodwinked by peace proposals, Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) said in a speech here.

Addressing the annual dinner of the Amen Corner, an organization of civic leaders, the former Pennsylvania governor asserted:

"We have been hoodwinked in the past. We are being hoodwinked today. Unless we get plenty of armaments we must realize that they (the Russians) can destroy us as they have said they would."

Duff said he believes neither President Eisenhower nor any official in Washington knows for certain whether Russia has the atomic bomb.

Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) told the audience the American people "must not be deceived by the signs of agreement in Korea," adding:

"Nothing in the present negotiations in Korea gives the slightest indication that Moscow has a desire for lasting peace. We must be alert to the danger of a truce that may be the forerunner of more widespread aggression."

Sen. John Williams (R-De), who initiated a nationwide probe of the internal revenue bureau, said only a few officials were at fault but declared they "were very powerful, for they were at or near the top."

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, who backed President Eisenhower, explained his traditionally Democratic state actually did not vote Republican when it cast its electoral ballots for Eisenhower. He explained:

"It went Eisenhower. Even more clearly, it went anti-Truman. The Texas course in 1952 will be determined to a considerable degree by the course of the national Democratic party."

"If I can correctly interpret the Texas attitude toward the new administration it is: 'So far, so good. We're still waiting and watching.'"

Dr. Harold S. Pond will be out of town April 12 to April 20.—Adv.

Concert Is Scheduled For Friday

Newfoundland—The annual concert of musical organizations of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school will be held Friday night, April 17, Joseph Jacobs, supervising principal, has announced.

The concert will be under the direction of John Strupewski, music supervisor at the school, and will feature numbers by the high school band, the junior band and the high school mixed chorus.

The event is sponsored by the music department with a committee of hand parents cooperating in the effort. Proceeds are used in outfitting and maintaining the two bands.

This will be the fifth year of organization of the high school band and the first under the baton of Mr. Strupewski. He replaced the organizer of the unit, Harold Wild, at the beginning of the current school year.

The junior band, composed of members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, came into being last year and will be making its second spring concert appearance. It numbers 35 members.

Satellite Countries Scared Wrong Horse May Be Backed In Kremlin Popularity Race

By William L. Ryan — AP Foreign News Analyst

It would seem to be a good idea for the West to post a careful watch on doings in the satellite Communist nations and parties of Europe these days for clues to what is going on inside the Soviet Union.

Already there are indications in the satellite countries that the Communist leaders are scared. They might back the wrong horse in Kremlin stakes.

This same symptom also is noticeable in the press of the Soviet Union itself. One of the most intriguing things about the Soviet press these days is the lack of prominent mention of any of the leaders who took over after Stalin died.

Premier Malenkov gets a little more mention than First Deputy Premier Beria. Frequently Malenkov, Beria and Foreign Minister Molotov are mentioned all together. But there has been a radical change from the Stalin days.

Before Stalin died, it was not possible to read through a Soviet editorial without finding reference many times to what "Comrade Stalin teaches," or without some remark about his glories. These days there are many editorials which not only fail to mention Stalin, but neglect to mention anybody. The Communist party is the authority cited now.

This state of affairs could cause extreme nervousness among the satellite leaders. If the struggle for power is not concluded, it is dangerous for them to be too deferential to any one of a number of Soviet leaders still in the sweepstakes. Such words might have a haunting quality later on.

Upon the death of Stalin, satellite leaders rushed to Moscow, ostensibly for the funeral but actually in an attempt to get the low-down on what would happen next. Apparently they are still in the dark. They seem to be guessing, like all the rest of us.

The situation is doubly nervous in Czechoslovakia, where the death of President Klement Gottwald, the party boss, so soon after the Stalin funeral, left an added vacuum and still more confused a confused situation for the Communists.

When the satellite leaders and the satellite press get to toadying to one Soviet leader more than another, we will have a pretty good idea who is ahead in the Kremlin sweeps. Meanwhile, it is not even too safe for them to call upon Stalin's name too frequently or too respectfully. Since the Kremlin is pushing Stalin into the background more and more, there is no guarantee for the worried Reds of the satellite empire that in time to come the master will not be largely discredited.

The safest thing for the satellite leaders to do now is to call for "unity and solidarity" with the Soviet Union. That's what they are doing.

If you're an advertiser and you invest three times as many dollars in one medium as in any other, brother — that's confidence. But when your choice is echoed by all the people who sell — that's popularity. Earned by newspapers and unmatched by any other medium!

If you're a retailer...

Only when your message appears in a newspaper can it reach nearly all the people you want to sell... whether they're home or away... any hour... any day.

If you're a manufacturer...

Only newspapers give you the flexibility to match the regional variations in sales opportunities for your product area-by-area plus complete coverage of the area.

If you're a distributor...

Only newspapers permit you to reach nearly all the people who can buy the products you sell plus the dealers you need to stock, display and advertise those products.

No wonder advertisers — from housewives with rooms to rent to national manufacturers — invested $2.4 billion in newspapers last year — more than the total spent for all radio, magazines and TV combined.

*Preliminary estimates of total 1952 advertising published by Printers' Ink. Figures include production, talent. Newspapers are dailies — weekdays and Sundays.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Miller-Frailey Wedding At Appenzell

St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Appenzell, was the scene of a quiet but impressive wedding at the vesper hour of 5:15 o'clock on Saturday afternoon when Miss Glenda Lorraine Frailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Frailey, of Trout Lake, Stroudsburg RD3, became the bride of Paul Kenneth Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Miller, of 70 Kistler St., East Stroudsburg.

Rev. Edward T. Horn, DD., St. Mark's pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was assisted by Rev. William F. Wunder, former pastor of the parish, before the candle-lit altar which was graced with bouquets of daffodils. During the wedding prayers the bridal couple knelt before the altar.

Isaac Miller, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Mrs. Margaret Frailey, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron-of-honor.

The bride was attired in an aqua-blue gabardine street length dress with navy blue accessories and wore a pink rosebud corsage. The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Frailey, wore a navy blue crepe street length dress with black accessories and a white rosebud corsage. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for the bride and groom. Tasty refreshments and a tiered wedding cake were served amidst the nuptial festivities.

Both bride and bridegroom attended Pocono Township High School in Tannersville. Mr. Miller is employed by the Superior Corporation in Wind Gap, Pa., and the bride employed by the Harris Street plant of the Art Metal Company in East Stroudsburg. The newly-weds will make their temporary residence with her parents.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

No matter how far you travel, you still see the world through the same two eyes. A painter may choose many subjects but usually his style is so recognizable that you scarcely need the signature at the bottom.

So what did I see in Philadelphia while waiting for the Math Club to learn things at the Franklin Institute?

A wedding, of course, leaving the Arch Street Methodist Church with the bride and the bridesmaids not a bit prettier or dressed any more handsomely than the ones we'd left behind.

Friends, of course, including Rev. Clyde Levergood walking the streets of the city.

The tulips in the park gardens were a little more advanced than the ones around Court House Square. The small boys were fishing in the Skunkkill instead of the Delaware, and the sculls were out on the river instead of the rowboat.

The styles in the store were the same except there were more of them, and the couples were strolling in the sunshine along sidewalks instead of down Mink Hill. Seemed a long way to go to see the same things we might have seen at home.

However, it's fortunate I waited to get home to lose my pocketbook as we delivered Math Club girls to their homes. In the city, I'm sure, there would have been no Clifford Wertheimer to find it and call up to set my mind at rest. Country woman, that's me!

Successful Projects Are Reported

Del. Water Gap The women of the Presbyterian Church Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Richard Carlton is president met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Brodhead Tuesday night. They had back of them a year of activity and that night received reports of two more successful projects.

One was the missionary committee work which Mrs. Francis Drake supervises. Mrs. Drake stated that not only the winter quota of hospital supplies for mission hospitals abroad and in the United States had been sent out on time, but the supplies slated for September shipments are now ready and will be sent out early. They need but the completion of a sweater which one of the members is knitting.

The other successful project is the individual bake-sales. The Auxiliary is repeating its offer to take and fill special bake orders. One member confessed that she had sold her own—a cake to her own husband.

The women will join with other Presbyterian Auxiliaries in the county for a special meeting in May; and the June meeting will be their last one until early Fall. They decided not to hold a bazaar this summer.

After the meeting, the hostess, Mrs. H. W. Brodhead, assisted by Miss Edythe Glebe and Mrs. Bennett Strait, served sandwiches and fruit punch to their guests. The group welcomed a bride of a few weeks ago, Mrs. Layton Hauser, who was introduced to the society by her sisters-in-law; Mrs. Richard Hauser and Mrs. Clifford Hauser. Present were Mrs. Richard Hauser, Mrs. Henry Kulp, Mrs. Elam Gray, Mrs. M. E. Miss Joanne Carolyn Toohey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas MacMillan, of 607 Avenue B, Stroudsburg, became the bride of Neldon Norman Remy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson R. Remy of North Ninth St., Stroudsburg, on Saturday afternoon April 11, at 2 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg.

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell performed the ceremony with palms and a bouquet of white snapdragons and lighted candelabra forming the background for the wedding party. Grace McLuckie, a nurse at the Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, was soloist. She sang "At Dawning," and "Because" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the wedding prayers. Vernon C. Inbt was organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her step-father, wore a gown of white satin with a yoke of net embroidered with hearts of seed pearls. The sleeves were long and pointed at the wrist, and the full skirt fell to floor length. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a white Testament with a white orchid and streamers of ribbons and blossoms.

Her cousin, Miss Ann Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Palmer, of Ridgewood, N. J., was her maid-of-honor. She wore a gown of aqua nylon net with a stole of white, aqua lace mitts, and a pleated coronet to match her dress. Her bouquet was mixed spring flowers.

Leon Warner, of Stroudsburg, was best man and the ushers included Richard Lee and Donald Evans, both of Stroudsburg.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue with pink accessories and a corsage of pink flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 150 guests was held in the church school assembly hall. A bridal scene marked the bride's table, while the wedding cake was set on a table decorated with a miniature church and wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Remy are now on a wedding trip to Washington D. C. For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue coat dress with red accessories and a corsage of orchids.

They are both graduates of Stroudsburg High School. The bride is a senior nurse at Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Philadelphia, and will return to the hospital to continue her training. She expects to be graduated in August.

Mr. Remy still has another year to serve with the U. S. Navy and expects to leave San Francisco for overseas duty.

WSCS Luncheons Continue At Water Gap

Delaware Water Gap The covered dish luncheons held by the women of the Methodist Church are being continued by popular request.

One was held at the home of Mrs. Layton Osborne the past Wednesday, and another is scheduled to take place Wednesday noon, April 15, at the home of Mrs. George Dolack, of Cherry Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolack and Miss Ella Dolack, who has taken the position of church organist, recently joined the Methodist church in the Gap.

At the luncheon in Mrs. Osborne's home, those attending were Mrs. George Hay, Mrs. Harvey Hay, Mrs. Otto Gehm, Mrs. Charles Rapp, Mrs. John Staples, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Laura Osborne, Mrs. Ida Shinn, of Easton, Mrs. Ann Frederick, whose presence enabled the group to keep their record of having a non-geographical at each luncheon, and the hostess Mrs. Layton Osborne.

Two letters were read to the group. They had been received that day by Miss Nellie Burd from Miss Maude Parsons, missionary in Japan in whom the WSCS is interested, and from Mrs. Miner Stearns of Belgian Gospel Mission, who is a former Water Gap resident. Another reading was a humorous poem, "The Minister's Prayer."

THE
SHOPPER

It isn't often that a business establishment advertises "indigestible" hotdogs and hamburgers. But we do at Wyckoff's! What is more, we guarantee that if you eat them, you'll froth at the mouth and bubble over in anguish. You'll understand why, if you visit our cosmetic department and see the fascinating display of moulded soaps from Austria. Of fine castile, realistically handpainted, they intrigue adults fully as much as they delight the small fry... and you'll be tempted to put a cake in the bathtub to perplex a guest, or even keep one on hand for some future April Fool's Day prank.

In addition to the hot dog and hamburger, both of which come in a daily deceiving, lightly-toasted roll, there are quintuplets in an outing flannel wrapper... three yellow ducklings boxed together... and a plump mother hen with three chicks on a nest of shredded paper grass. All of these sell for $1. At $1.50, you can buy the Taree Bears, just as they appear in the fairytale.

Without striving for a pun, I can tell you honestly that the hotdog and the hamburger are selling like hot cakes. And from personal experience, I can vouch that they're a truly worthwhile buy. Not even the boys of the household protest against bathing now that the much dreaded "cake" is a "bun." Fact is, my two seem almost reconciled to the fact that while there's life, there's SOAP!

LOOKING, THANK YOU!

If it were only a wee bit longer, I'd have a new 5-way dress from Mardee Wyckoff's fashion department, and a good buy it would be too! The 5-wayer is actually a two piece navy faille, with a two piece print underneath. The print blouse is smart with the skirt and jacket of faille; it's smart too when worn alone with the print skirt. And when the four pieces aren't being jiggled to mix or match, the print skirt becomes a flirtatious petticoat designed to peek out from under any dress you might be wearing at the moment. The price is under $18—that's the really stunning part!... I don't like to tell tales, of course, but we had a department head in our store Saturday who certainly put her foot in it—"it being the wrong shoe. Seems she was walking up Main street enroute to work when someone asked her if she meant to start a new fad. That's when she discovered she was wearing a blue pump on her left foot, and a brown one on her right. Quite a combination to be topped by a red face!... Today is the day we roll out the red carpet (and very probably neglect our work at every opportunity) as we welcome our travelers home from Europe. Rainy as it was yesterday afternoon, I imagine the Statue of Liberty looked pretty good to them after four weeks—and they'll look pretty good to us. But definitely!

Ockershausen Undecided On Starting Crew

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is scheduled to open the 1953 baseball season on Wednesday, when the Warriors invade the home domain of Panzer College, at East Orange, N. J.

The opening contest is listed for 2 p.m., with the charges of Coach George Ockershausen taking batting practice one hour earlier.

Although the game with Panzer is only two days away, Ockershausen is still having a difficult time deciding on a starting lineup, especially after the first team took an 18-2 drubbing in a practice game on Saturday. The second squad was the winner in Saturday's struggle on Normal Hill.

Ockershausen announced last night that his starting hurler would come from a group containing Bob Mellman, Lloyd "Sonny" Woodling, John Zawatsky and Jim Passaro. This quartet is veteran material.

Hobart "Hobe" Hutchins will be back as first string reliever, with Don Bachtel and Lloyd Wescoe assisting in this department. Bachtel is expected back at practice this week after suffering a leg injury last week.

Infield

First base is a toss up between Bob Hartman and Tom Foley, with the former having a slight edge. Bill Frear and Passaro are in the running for second base. If Passaro doesn't pitch, room may be found in the lineup for his big bat.

Lyle Krall has the inside track at shortstop, although Bill Hibbs and Charley Shaw are ready to step into the gap at a moment's notice. Harold "Hal" Sisco, veteran third sacker, will be back at the hot corner, although being pushed by Bill Shires, a freshman, at the present time.

Wednesday's starting outfield will probably find Art Schaare in left; Bill Antoine, center, and Bill "Lefty" Herring, right. Shires, Woodling and Mellman can also be used in the outfield.

Two other pitchers on the roster who will probably see plenty of action this season are Harry Steever, of football fame, and Ronnie Belows. Stever is the only southpaw on the club.

The roster is currently down to 20 names and the club is very nearly ready to launch its tough 11-game schedule. ESSTC will take part in its first home game on Saturday, with Kutztown supplying the opposition.

Browns Down Cardinals, 8-5

St. Louis (AP) — Stan Musial drove in four runs with a home run and double, but the St. Louis Cardinals were defeated again yesterday by the rival Browns, 8-5, in a city series game featured by a near fight and three players hit by pitched balls.

Southpaw Harry Brecheen, long-time Cardinal hurler, won the victory for the Browns. He did not yield a hit in three innings of work.

Near Fight

The near fight came in the second when Bill Hunter, rookie Brown shortstop, was an easy out at the plate but charged hard into catcher Del Rice who kicked at Hunter. An exchange of words between manager Marty Marion and Rice followed but Cardinal pilot Eddie Stanky pulled Rice away.

Barons Regain Lead

Cleveland (AP) — Cleveland Barons regained the lead in the American Hockey League Calder Cup playoffs, three games to two, defeating Pittsburgh Hornets, 2 to 1, in a thrill packed struggle before 7,771 fans last night.

Braves Trim Red Sox, 4-1

Boston (AP) — The end of a onetime glorious National League era came for Boston yesterday as its Milwaukee-shifted Braves beat the Red Sox, 4-1, in the final of the cross-country "city" series.

A 7,873 crowd, which appeared to be 99 per cent Braves fans, ignored chilling drizzle as their idols duplicated some of the feats Boston National Leaguers performed during their 76-years history.

Four Hitter

Sturdy Jim Wilson held the Red Sox to four scattered hits, thereby reminding Braves' Bill James and George Tyler of George Stallings' 1914 "miraclemen."

Walker Cooper and Andy Pafko homered, to bring back memories of illustrious Boston National sluggers.

With nothing at stake and, plagued by the miserable playing conditions, the Red Sox performed rather listlessly.

Washington, Cincinnati To Be Host Clubs As Major League Baseball Campaign Opens Today

By Jack Hand

New York, (AP) — With a break from the weatherman the baseball season opens today at Washington and Cincinnati and swings into full scale operation tomorrow with an eight-game program.

Milwaukee has supplanted Boston in the National League and 54 per cent of last year's opening day players have left for other clubs, leagues or the military services. But the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers still are favored.

Here is the opening schedule: Eastern Standard Time.

Monday

American League
New York at Washington, (3:30 p. m.)

National League
Milwaukee at Cincinnati, (2:30 p. m.)

Tuesday

National League
St. Louis at Milwaukee, (2:30 p. m.)

Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, (1:30 p. m.)

New York at Philadelphia, (1:30 p. m.)

Cincinnati at Chicago, (2:30 p. m.)

American League
Chicago at Cleveland, (3:00 p. m.)

Philadelphia at New York, (2:00 p. m.)

Detroit at St. Louis (night) (9:30 p. m.)

Washington at Boston, (2:00 p. m.)

If pre-game predictions aren't too optimistic, a turnout of 291,000 will watch the two-day program.

That would be quite a gain on last year's attendance of 172,322 for eight games but short of the record of 331,783 set in the giddy days of 1948.

Things are so different that there is a new cast even in the "presidential" opener at Griffith Stadium. Harry Truman has gone on the "retired" list and his successor, President Eisenhower, is golfing in Augusta, Ga. Vice President Nixon will make it legal by tossing out the first ball before the New York-Washington game.

Seldom has there been such a wholesale turnover of player talent from one opening day to the next. The Korean war had something to do with, grabbing Ted Williams, Gerry Coleman and Willie Mays for service. But the big factor was the flurry of trading in both leagues, particularly the American.

It is easy to see what happened by looking at the probable lineups of the Detroit at St. Louis night opener Tuesday. The Tigers and Browns have been swapping men like mad. Seven players who opened in 1952 will be playing for the opposition Tuesday, including pitchers Ned Garver and Virgil Trucks.

Key Men

Key men like the Chicago Cubs' Hank Sauer and Roy Smalley and Washington's Gil Coan will miss the first games because of injuries suffered during spring training.

A promising rookie crop will break into big league box scores for the first time. Junior Gilliam, Brooklyn's new second baseman, probably has been the most publicized because he shoved Jackie Robinson over to third base.

Daryl Spencer, the New York Giants' new infield flash, was supposed to miss a couple of weeks because of a broken cheek bone, but he was in the lineup for yesterday's called-off exhibition with Cleveland. Chances are he'll be at third base at Philadelphia Tuesday. Some 22 newcomers will open the season.

The Boston Red Sox's "youth program" will field a team averaging about 24 years.

A crowd of 30,000 is expected at Washington today when "Eucky" Harris' Senators, highly regarded by many experts, meet the world champion New York Yankees. Allie Reynolds, the Yanks' "Super Chief," is to meet tough luck Bob Porterfield. The odds are on favorites to win an unprecedented fifth straight pennant.

Cincinnati, which always opens at home, counts on 30,000 to see the revamped Reds welcome Milwaukee back to the majors.

Olympic Champion Receives Severe Ring Test Today

New York, (AP) — Welterweights take the play in boxing next week with the 147-pound champion, Kid Gavilan, swinging back into action against Italy's Livio Minelli in Cleveland tomorrow night.

This will be the Kid's first fight since he blitzed "Chuck" Davey in Chicago last February. Unbeaten in two and one-half years, the Cuban flash is a prohibitive six to one favorite to run his unbeaten streak to 28 fights. A draw with Johnny Bratton mars the almost perfect record.

The fight won't be telecast. On the same card Chico Vejar of Stamford meets Tony Cimmino of Bayonne, N. J.

Bratton, the former welterweight champ, also fights tomorrow night. The Chicago clouter opposes Al "Sugar" Wilson of Brooklyn in the top 10 at Brooklyn's Ridgewood Grove. This 10 p. m., (EST) bout will be telecast (ABC) over a limited network. Bratton is a four to one choice.

Friday

Friday night's radio-televised fight out of New York's St. Nicholas Arena matches Gerry Dreyer, the British Empire welterweight king from South Africa, and Tony "Tex" Gonzales of Orange, N. J.

The 10 p. m., (EST) scrap will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC). Dreyer is favored at eight to five.

The Wednesday and Saturday night coast-to-coast television bouts both match welterweights against middleweights.

Pierre Langlois, the fourth ranking middleweight from France, faces welterweight contender Joe Miceli of New York in a return 10 rounder at the Miami Beach Auditorium Wednesday night. Miceli beat Langlois last July but the Frenchman is a 7 to 5 favorite to even the score. This 10 p. m. (EST) bout will be telecast (CBS).

Joe Giambra, the number four middleweight contender from Buffalo, N. Y., mixes with Danny "Bang Bang" Womber of Chicago in the feature 10 at Buffalo Saturday night. Giambra is the 10 to 16 one favorite. The bout starts at 9 p. m. (EST) and will be the first fight to be telecast over a network (ABC) out of Buffalo.

Tonight

Tonight, Floyd Patterson, the Olympic 165-pound champion who has won all five of his pro bouts by knockouts, gets a severe test when he squares off against experienced Dick Wagner of Tappan, N. J., in an eight rounder. The bout will be telecast (Dumont) out of Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena at 10 p. m. (EST).

The 19-year-old Patterson, of Brooklyn, is a surprising two to one favorite. Wagner has won three in a row, the last one being a fourth round knockout over Joe de John in Syracuse, February 14.

Honor

Pitcher Tommy Byrne, who pitched seven innings and yielded five hits, wrapped up the South Siders' 25th victory in 40 spring games with a fifth inning home run off losing pitcher Warren Hacker behind "Chico" Carrasquel's leadoff single.

Idaho State Wins College Boxing Crown

Pocatello, Idaho, (AP) — A bruising former world boxing champion was the inspiration for a slender, dark-haired lad who won the sportsman-ship trophy along with an individual title at the 1953 NCAA Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament.

Ray Zale, Wisconsin, won the championship in the 176-pound class, by beating Adam Kois of Penn State in the finals of the tourney Saturday night. His win also meant second place for the Badgers in the race for the team title, won by the host Idaho State College.

Idaho State finished with 25 points; Wisconsin, the defending national champion, had 19. Louisiana State was third with 16 and Michigan State, San Jose State and North Carolina A & T tied for fourth with 10 each.

Zale is a nephew of Tony Zale, the former world middleweight champion. They both live in Gary, Ind.

Idol

"I saw all three of Tony's championship fights with 'Rocky' Graziano," Ray said. "I think he was a real champion and I look up to him very much."

Styles of the two Zales are radically different. Where Tony was a punishing batter, Ray is a skillful boxer. In his title fight with Kois, Ray used his arms to ward off most of the blows thrown by the Pennsylvanian. Ray is not a crowd pleaser but he piles up points with the judges.

Zale was awarded the Larowe Trophy given to the athlete whose sportsmanship, skill and conduct perpetuate the finest attributes in collegiate boxing. The award honors John S. Larowe, Virginia boxing coach who died in 1940.

Four Matches Slated

Alleys three and four — E. S. Hardware vs. Faber's Gulf.

Alleys five and six — Bissler's TV vs. Heico, Inc.

Alleys seven and eight — National Drug vs. Baylor's Esso.

Zaharias Prepares To Undergo Surgery For Malignant Growth

Baumont, Tex., (AP) — "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias squared away yesterday for the toughest competition of her life—a battle with a disease that would write finish to one of sport's outstanding careers. The greatest woman athlete learned Saturday that she has a malignancy of the lower rectum and must undergo an operation as soon as she can be prepared for it. It is expected to be within five days.

The 39-year-old star of many sports over a 20-year period received the news three days after quitting the woman's golf tour and entering a hospital here. But she maintained a cheerfulness that amazed those who saw her.

Pray

The place of the operation is expected to be known today. George Zaharias, her husband, said a noted specialist, whose name he would not divulge, was being sought but had not yet been contacted. The operation probably will be performed here if he is obtained. Otherwise, said Zaharias, it may be either at Houston, Galveston or New Orleans.

"We'll just have to pray and keep our fingers crossed now," Zaharias added.

"Tell everybody 'hello,' the 'Babe' smiled to a newspaperman.

Report

MacPhail told a reporter yesterday the run-in on the track's grounds was simply a result of what he called the sloppy manner in which the troopers had been handling the traffic jam at the track.

Asked about the assault charge, the big squatly redhead said he thought the trooper was the only one that was aware of any physical force.

"All the other people that gathered around didn't see anything like that."

MacPhail is to appear at a hearing at Hyattsville on April 20. "Sure, I'll be there," he said.

Mantle Becomes Father Of Boy

Joplin, Mo., (AP) — Mrs. Mickey Mantle, wife of the New York Yankees' slugger, gave birth yesterday to a boy weighing eight pounds, nine ounces.

Name

A nurse said the boy has already been named Mickey Elvin Mantle. "Elvin" is in honor of Mickey's Dad, who died May, 1952, at Denver.

Both mother and baby were reported "doing fine."

Navy Holds Annual Junior Ring Event

Annapolis, Md., (AP) — Referee Sam Fletcher brought the fighters together in the middle of the ring and gave them final instructions.

"You boys know the rules," he told them. "No rabbit punches. Break when I tell you to break. Now go back to your corners and come out fighting."

With that, Dick Pastrana, one of the fighters, started to sob. The other gladiator, Clancy Hennegan, stared into space and chewed on his glove.

When the bell rang for the first round, however, both boxers were intent only on mixing it up. And for a pair of four-year-olds, they weren't bad. Neither was the eight-year-old referee.

Opener

The Pastrana-Hennegan fight was the first of 34 bouts on the card of the 35th Annual Navy Junior Boxing Championships held yesterday in the Naval Academy gymnasium. Strictly amateurs, the fighters ranged in age from two to 12 years.

Dick stopped crying once the fight got underway and downed Clancy twice in the opening round. Then Clancy started to cry. And though he finished strong and scored one knockdown, he continued to sob until the end of the match.

In charge of the colorful affair was Spike Webb, Academy boxing coach, who celebrated his 64th birthday by promoting his 35th class.

"Some of the kids who boxed in 1919 are now captains in the Navy," Spike said in a moment of reminiscence.

Life of Riley

If this column is going to attempt to pick the finish of the National League flag race before the campaign gets underway, it's high time we drag out the tarnished sardine can and look things over, as the senior circuit opens the 1953 campaign in a matter of hours in Cincinnati. I seriously believe the National League race will be even tougher than an American League battle that shapes up as plenty exciting. The senior circuit looks like a real four-team race to this scribe.

The finish, in my humble opinion, will be Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh. The only thing standing in the way of a perfect finish as far as this column is concerned is 134 games of thrilling baseball, games that more often than not won't be decided until the final pitch. The two circuits this year seem to be more evenly balanced than at any time since World War II, and there's no reason to believe that the pennant winner in either loop should turn the flag chases into runaways.

Brooklyn appears destined to cop top honors in the senior circuit for the second straight year. Any club that is forced to use Billy Cox, the best third baseman in the league, in a utility role, must have plenty of talent to spare. The fact that the Dodgers now feature Russ "Monk" Meyer on their pitching staff appears to be the clincher for the Bums, at least on paper. Many of the experts believe the reformed Meyer is ready to turn in 20 victories this season. True, the Bums may be weak in left field, but not weak enough to show in pre-season predictions.

The New York Giants seem to have found themselves after a poor start this spring. Daryl Spencer appeared against the Indians yesterday, before rain halted the exhibition after three innings. The injured rookie sensation, who was expected to be out of the lineup for two more weeks, could mean the difference between first and second place for Manager Leo Durocher's charges, providing he can go at full speed all season. The New York pitching must improve, but otherwise the club is sound and ready to go. There has never been any doubt about the spirit of the Giants.

Philadelphia is one of the "dark horse" candidates for the top spot. Yet, in this writer's mind, too much hope is being placed on the shoulders of big Earl Torgeson. To this writer's knowledge the big guy has never lived up to advance billing and there's no reason to believe that this is the season. The Phils traded away their number three hurler in Meyer and I doubt very much if Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Jim Konstanty can carry the load alone. The catching is only fair and right field is doubtful. What with the Phils do with Eddie Waitkus?

It is quite possible that the St. Louis Cardinals will be the surprise team of the circuit, under the driving force of Manager Eddie Stanky. Any club with great performers like Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial can't be counted out. Yet, the Cards must be picked for fourth due to a question mark at first and third bases, uncertain pitching and strictly fair catching. If spirit means anything, the Redbirds will be in the running from start to finish.

Chicago, one of the surprise teams of the 1952 campaign, should finish in fifth place without too much strain. Manager Phil Cavarretta has turned in a fine job as pilot of the Bruins, but he is making at least three switches this year that may or may not help the club. A first baseman will be playing center field, while a second baseman holds down the shortstop position and a third baseman covers second. As of now the pitching doesn't look strong enough to make the chewing gum proteges any kind of a serious threat for the hunting.

Cincinnati, under the guidance of the one and only Rogers Hornsby, should be vastly improved over last season, but it doesn't seem to be in the books for the Reds to climb any higher than sixth. Cincinnati is currently featuring young players in key positions and their experience alone will hamper the Reds. Although the Reds don't show much on paper, the forceful Hornsby may get more mileage out of the club than any manager has since the close of the recent world war.

Milwaukee is going crazy with excitement at the present time, but the city may turn as cool as ice before the present campaign becomes history. Right now the transplanted Braves don't appear to be a notch better than seventh place. The roster is loaded with question marks and in some places "no answers" are very prevalent. The addition of Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko should help the situation. Last and apparently quite least, the Pittsburgh Pirates appear to have last spot on a silver platter. If the hapless Bucs rise as high as seventh, it probably will be a modern baseball miracle.

Officials Inspect Pocono Mountains League Fields

Three Teams Asked To Make Improvements

Although rain washed out all practice sessions of Pocono Mountains League baseball teams yesterday, circuit officials were busy inspecting fields for the campaign scheduled to open on Sunday, May 10.

Harry Janson, vice president of the league, announced last night that seven of the 10 fields to be used during the coming season were approved.

Three fields were ordered repaired and improved before the circuit opens the curtain next month. Janson refused to name the officials making the inspections or the fields that failed to pass the inspection test.

Requirements
The vice president did point out that all temporary rosters and entrance fees must be in the hands of league officials a week from tonight, when the circuit holds its regular monthly meeting at Bartonsville Hotel.

Insurance policies must also be improved by next Monday.

Final plans will be made for the opening of the campaign at next week's meeting.

Munhall Wins Rifle Crown

DuBois, Pa., (AP)—Munhall high school scored 993 points Saturday to win its second consecutive PIAA rifle championship.

Second
Bradford, paced by John Alford who fired the only perfect 200 score, was second with 990 points. Upper Darby finished third with 988 and Blue Ridge last with 868.

Eastburg Elks Capture Trophy

Leighton — East Stroudsburg Lodge of Elks defeated Leighton for the Round Robin Bowling Tournament championship on Saturday night, here at Leighton Recreation.

East Stroudsburg and Leighton finished the regular season in a tie for first place, while Bangor came third and Easton fourth, in the four-club circuit.

Second Time

The win gives East Stroudsburg two "legs" on the trophy, as the Monroe County lodge won the same honor in 1951. Bangor was the number one team last season. The team that wins the title three years retires the present trophy.

Joe Yutz led the East Stroudsburg scoring with a match count of 648, on games of 225, 221 and 202. Yutz was by far the best bowler taking part in the rolloff.

Harry Michaels, captain and chairman of the bowling committee, accepted the trophy in behalf of the East Stroudsburg leggers.

Other members of the East Stroudsburg team are John Hauser, Cliff Fanseer, Floyd "Red" Lambert, Ted Hoffman and Graydon Hoffman.

Cron To Lead Stag Cagers

Newfoundland—Robert "Bobby" Cron was named captain of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling varsity basketball team for the 1953-54 season at recent elections conducted by lettermen at the school.

Guard

Cron starred as a guard for the Stags during the past season after two years as a member of the junior varsity squad and will be the only member of last season's "first five" available to Coach Henry "Hank" Arneberg next year. The captain-elect, a member of the class of 1954, is also active on the baseball team.

Named as honorary captain of the junior varsity team for the past season was Henry Olsson. Managers for the 1953-54 year are Dick Muller, Larry Belscher and Jim Campbell.

Little League To Meet

A meeting of the Stroudsburg Little League will be held at the Monroe County YMCA tomorrow. It was announced last night by John R. Wilson, league secretary. The meeting is listed for 8 p.m.

All league officials and team managers are asked to be present.

Plans
Plans for the 1953 Little League will be discussed.

Drafting of players, improvement of the field, finances and other important topics will lead the discussion list.

Pirates Option Two Players

Pittsburgh, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have optioned pitcher Bill Dunn and infielder Dick Smith.

New Orleans

Smith, a resident of Port Matilda, Pa., was sent to New Orleans of the Southern Association. Dunn went to Burlington, N. C., of the Carolina League.

Hogan Sets New Record In Masters

Ben Hogan

Augusta, Ga., (AP)—Ben Hogan, the little man who has made golf a science instead of a game, won his second Masters Tournament yesterday and broke the tournament record with a 72-hole score of 274. Hogan shot a final round of 69 over the soggy, par 72 Augusta National Course yesterday to win by a five-stroke margin.

Big Ed "Porky" Oliver of Palm Springs, Calif., tied the long-standing record of 279 but to finish as a neglected second as a Sunday crowd of some 12,000 cheered Hogan on.

Oliver, the only player who wouldn't be shaken off as Hogan took the lead on the second round and stretched it out on the third, had a 35-35-70 yesterday but couldn't gain a stroke.

Third Place
Lloyd Mangrum, the top money winner of the pro circuit, fired a 69 on the final round to take third place with 282.

Sam Snead, the defending champion and a two-time winner of the Masters, never was a contender and posted a 292 total after a 75 on his final round.

The record of 279 which Hogan broke was set by Ralph Guldahl in 1939 and equaled by Claude Harmon in 1948.

Although he led from the second round and had a four-stroke margin starting the last, Hogan really wrapped up the record on the last nine holes.

Playing over a course that was left soggy and slow after a heavy rain this morning, he equalled par 36 for the front nine of the 6,900 yard course, then knocked three strokes off par from the back nine with a 33.

Virtually a stranger to big-time tournament golf except for a few selected events such as the Masters, Hogan again proved that he's one of the greatest players by shooting four sub-par rounds in succession. His rounds of 70-69-66-69-274 put him 14 strokes under par for the 72-hole route.

It was the 66 on the third round that really killed off the opposition. That equaled the second-best 18-hole score ever made in a Masters tournament and gave Ben a comfortable lead.

Yesterday he played as slowly and carefully as always and suffered the usual delays caused by the huge gallery. But even when his usually steady putter faltered a bit and put him over par on the sixth and eighth holes, he was unworried.

Prediction

In breaking the record, Hogan fulfilled his own pre-tournament prediction that a new one would be set if the weather remained good. And it was good as far as Ben was concerned, although on two of the four days the early starters were delayed by rain.

Yesterday strong winds drove drenching showers across until an hour before Hogan's starting time. Then it began to clear and most of his round was played in bright sunshine.

The early rain, and perhaps the $7.50 admission charge for the final day, held the crowd somewhat below last year's figure. The charge had been raised from $5 in an admitted attempt to reduce the crowd size.

"Chick" Harbert of Detroit, the first round leader, wound up in a tie with Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N.J., for fifth place with 283's—good enough to win last year. Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., had 286 and Jack Burke of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y., a 287.

Amateur Honors

Sharing amateur honors were Harvie Ward, Jr., of Atlanta, the British Amateur champion, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo with 291 totals. They played today's rounds.

At the post-tournament presentation ceremonies, club president Bob Jones announced that the prize money would be doubled all the way down the line. That means that instead of an approximate $10,000 total, the professionals will receive a total of about 26,000, including a $200 award to each pro who completed four rounds but failed to finish in the top 24 "money" places. Hogan, as winner, will get $4,000 instead of $2,000.

Rain Halts First Auto Race Slate

Williams Grove, Pa., (AP)—The first auto race of the 1953 season scheduled at Williams Grove Speedway was rained out yesterday. The entire program, including a 30-lap feature event, was cancelled.

Next Event

The next racing program is set for April 26 with big cars competing in a featured 30-lap race.

Washington Catcher Injured

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Singles by Dick Cole, Felipe Montemayor and Danny O'Connell drove in five runs as the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League forged from behind with a six-run outburst in the eighth inning yesterday to defeat the Washington Senators of the American League 8-5 in an exhibition game.

The Senators lost more than the ball game as catcher Mickey Gasco suffered a broken bone in his left hand in the last inning. He was struck by one of Bob Hall's pitches. Washington officials said he probably will be lost to the team for three weeks.

Winner

Bob Hall, who took over the Pirates mound duties in the seventh, got credit for the win, while Jim Pearce, the Senators' second relief hurler, was charged with the loss.

Harry Schaeffer

Schaeffer
Assigned To Kansas City

Harry Schaeffer, the lean left-handed pitcher who received his start in professional baseball with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1946, was officially optioned to Kansas City by the parent New York Yankees on Saturday.

Art Schallock, another southpaw hurler, and Kal Segrist, an infielder, accompanied Schaeffer to the American Association club, an "AAA" organization.

Working Out

The trio has been working out with the Kansas City club for the past 10 days.

Severance of the three from the Yankee roster leaves the champions with 33 players, with seven to be cut before the May 15 deadline. The Yankees are permitted to carry 26 men because "Whitey" Ford, another southpaw hurler, is a service returnee.

Schaeffer is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, where he also played baseball.

Names

Included on the list of those signed are John Carbone, Joe D'Imperio, Tony Valletta, Mike Rinaldo, Joe Basso, Vince DeFrance, Art Castellucci, Leonard Castellucci, Phillip Albanese, Dominic "Ziggy" DeFranco, Glenn Raph, Basil D'Imperio, Anthony Franshino, George Delassandro, Charles Verona, Schiavone, Bob "Lefty" Muhr, Dan Consalone, John Liberto, Harold Nerino and Dick Pritchard.

Approximately a dozen other players will be signed by the Roseto contingent in the near future.

The club will hold a practice session today at Roseto Park, at 5 p.m.

Flight From Madrid, Spain, To Gibraltar Like Going From Fire Into Cool Water

(Following is the thirty-second of a series of travel articles written by Ruth Haller Ottaway, mother of James H. Ottaway, publisher of The Daily Record.)

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

Madrid. We were told to be at the BEA office (British European Airlines) at a quarter of three for our flight to Gibraltar which left at a quarter to five. Two hours of waiting and weighing of baggage and trundling in the BEA bus to the outskirts of Madrid and the airport for a flight of an hour and three quarters! The fare was $60 for the two of us and $12 for excess baggage. If you plan to fly, take a toothbrush, night clothes, a suit and coat. Arrived at the airport station, we were in the center of a delirium of shrieking and commotion and complete disorganization. No one knew where we could regain our passports or anything else. Clouds would conceal the massive mountain swirls and then suddenly dissipate and reveal again earth's solidified cauldron.

So vast and so terrifying a vision took on a grandeur which dispelled all personal fear. We were simply nothing more than two beetles before the magnificently horrific forces of nature.

Presently we were flying over water. We were approaching the great Rock of Gibraltar from the rear and circling out over the straits to make a landing on a field close to shore. We soon had our feet on terra firma and were looking up at the giant Rock, sentinel of the Mediterranean.

The Rock Hotel bus deposited us at its hostelry charmingly situated where we looked down at the sea literally covered with British warships.

Nothing could be more startling than to be living with the vivid, gesticulating, forever talking Spaniards whose chatter sounded like crackling pistols and a sprinkle of gurgling "J's", and suddenly to be dropped in the midst of the soft-spoken British. The Rock is a solidly British hotel. We were among the few outlanders.

The exaggeration of the colorful Spanish, their inclination to overstate and overpromise contrasted strangely with the conservative British desire to under-
